

50+ Crazy Years in Broadcasting by Bryan Norcross

2022 – The world of broadcasting changes

Fox Weather streaming service

SYNOPSIS

After the Covid pandemic in 2020, the world of television radically changed. More and more people cut the cord to traditional television and used their phone, tablet, or computer to stay informed when the weather threatened.

Fox Weather spun up to meet this new paradigm in late 2021. I signed on as Hurricane Specialist in 2022 to be ready for that hurricane season.
